Abstract

According to the Zomar sourah, Ayah 55, a question is raised whether Quran ayah can be divided into better and best ayah. If the answer is yes, what is the reason? The holy Quran has presented different methods for dealing with some issues, that human can select the best method according to different situations and conditions. However, sometimes it is possible that some conflicts occur in selecting one method among various methods. But given that different situations may determine being "the best", there will be no conflict among different methods.
